

PUNISHMENT IS SURE TO FOLLOW

Outbreak at 'Casablanca, Morocco, Gives France an Opportunity Long Sought.

TROOPS WILL OCCUPY FEZ

SPAIN TO SEND OUT FEW SOLDIERS.

Paris, Aug. 4.—The government received today through the French charge d'affaires at Tangier the excuses of the Moroccan government board for the troubles at Casablanca and its usual assurance that its orders have been given to the governors of the various ports that they will be held responsible for the security of foreigners. But these platonic assurances will not affect the program the government is elaborating with Spain and for which active preparations are proceeding. The second naval division, consisting of the cruisers Gueydon, Gloire and Jeanne d'Arc, sailed from Toulon today for Morocco. The entire coast of that country probably will be patrolled by French and Spanish fleets until the international police are installed.

Foreign Minister Pinchon conferred this afternoon with President Fallieres at Rambouillet concerning the situation. General A. M. B. Drude, commanding the first regiment of the Fourth Algerian Tirailleurs, has been given command of the French expeditionary force that is embarking at Oran for Casablanca.

The impression is general here that in order to put an end to anarchy in Morocco a punitive expedition must march on Fez.

RECEIVED WITH DERISION.

Sultan's Excuses for the Recent Outbreak Fail to Satisfy.

Tangier, Aug. 4.—Up to noon no further advice had been received from Casablanca. The arrival there of the French cruiser Galilee last Wednesday made a good impression, but the Europeans were still greatly excited, as 2,000 Arab horsemen were in sight of the city. The commander of the Galilee offered to bombard the town, but the foreign consuls prevented this action. All foreign business houses and the banks are closed and business is at a standstill. The Italian cruiser Etna, with the Italian minister aboard, has arrived at Casablanca. The excuses presented by the emissary of Mohammed El Torres, foreign representative of the sultan, for the disturbances at Casablanca have been received here with derision.

There is no confirmation here that the Zair tribesmen threaten to attack the town of Rabat.

In spite of his wound, it is reported that General Bagdadi, head of the government force operating against the bandits, is in an endeavor to rescue Caid Sir Harry MacLean, who is being held by the tribesmen. It is said the tribesmen are brighter at the moment in which Bagdadi is sacking and burning villages and are negotiating with Raisuli for the release of MacLean.

Game of the Pretender.

Madrid, Aug. 4.—Dispatches received here from Meilla, Morocco, report that the pretender has taken advantage of the present situation in that country to carry out a campaign of propaganda in favor of Europe and has sent a delegation of rebel chiefs to protest against the events at Casablanca. The dispatches state that the pretender is a sign of mourning and has ordered the cessation of the celebration of his recent victory and is disposed to co-operate with European initiative in measures to ameliorate the situation in the territory he controls.

The Epochs strongly reproaches the newspapers which think the government should turn its back on the international arguments and advocates giving the government a free hand.

Small Force from Spain.

Madrid, Aug. 4.—At a five hours session of the cabinet today Franco-Spanish action in Morocco and a note to the powers were discussed. At the close of the meeting General Primo Rivero, the war minister, announced that the Spanish contingent to Morocco would not exceed 500 men. He said they would go on board a warship.

Troops Burn a Village.

Tangier, Aug. 4.—Official advice received here says that the shepherds troops have attacked and burned the village of Hauia, near Agadir. The shepherds are now transpiring that when on July 27 the Kmass tribesmen demanded that Raisuli surrender Caid Sir Harry MacLean because they feared an attack by the sultan's troops, Raisuli suddenly vanished, taking MacLean with him into the hills, where he left him in charge of his (Raisuli's) brother. MacLean was then badly treated, but after five days he was brought back again. Negotiations for his release continue.

MacLean is now permitted to write freely, and in letters to friends he confirms the foregoing information.

It is stated that the governing body's only condition for a cessation of hostilities against Raisuli is the liberation of MacLean, and that it does not stipulate the arrest or surrender of the bandit.

State Department Not Concerned Regarding Isle Royale.

Washington, Aug. 4.—No advice has been received at the state department concerning the reported expedition of several Canadians, led by Captain S. C. Young of the Ninety-sixth regiment, for Isle Royale in Lake Superior, with the intention of hoisting the British flag on that island and formally declaring the territory a part of Canada. According to the officials of the state department there has never been any question between Canada and the United States as to the United States' ownership of the island. This ownership was settled by the treaty of Ghent. At the state department here there is no disposition to regard the action of Captain Young as anything but a filibustering move.

COAL MINING IN WYOMING IN 1906

Amount Has Increased Continuously, the Gain Since 1902 Being Nearly 40 Per Cent.

RISE IN PRICE VERY SMALL

PRODUCTION PER MAN EXCEEDED ONLY BY UTAH.

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, Aug. 4.—According to E. W. Parker of the United States geological survey, the production of coal in Wyoming in 1906 was 6,133,294 short tons, having a spot value of $8,013,523.

The coal production of Wyoming has increased each year since 1902, the gain in each of the last three years being approximately 500,000 tons. The increase in 1906 over 1905 was 321,973 short tons, or 5.5 per cent in quantity, the gain in value amounting to $557,779, or 9.9 per cent. Since 1902, when the period of uninterrupted increase began, the coal production in Wyoming has increased from 4,432,491 to 6,133,294 short tons, or nearly 40 per cent. In the survey's report for 1905 it was stated that this increase in production had been due to legitimate demand and not to an attempt to force production, for the gain in output was accompanied by an advance in value, the average price per ton having risen from $1.24 in 1903 to $1.29 in 1904 and $1.31 in 1905. The price in 1906 was the same as in the preceding year.

Utah Miners Better Workers.

Wyoming ranks second in the amount of coal produced during the year per man employed, the Utah men were employed in the coal mines of the state, averaging 281 days each. The average production per man for the year was 1,037.7 tons, a rate exceeded only by Utah. In 1906 there were 5,977 men employed for an average of 236 days, and the average production for the year per man was 972.3 tons. This rate also was exceeded by the miners in Utah only. The average daily production per man in 1906 in the coal mines of Wyoming was 3.68 tons, against 3.57 tons in 1905. In 1904 the average tonnage per man per year was 3,143, and the average daily tonnage per man amounted to 2.49. Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico and Colorado of the Rocky mountain division and Maryland, Pennsylvania (bituminous), Virginia and West Virginia in the east hold records for individual capacity among the miners.

In all but two of these states, Utah and Pennsylvania (bituminous), the majority of the mines work either ten or nine hours. In Wyoming in 1906 there were twenty-nine mines, employing 5,977 men out of a total of 5,931, that worked ten hours. The mines reporting any other hours were unimportant operations.

Mining Machines in Use.

Statistics relating to the use of mining machines show that in 1906 there were 1,336 machines in use in the coal mines of Wyoming, compared with 810 in 1905 and 700 in 1904. The total number of machines in use in 1906, forty-eight per cent of the pick or punch type, thirty-three per cent of the machine-miner production, and one per cent of the hand-miner type.

The casualty record for 1906, reported by Noah Young and D. M. Edgar, mine inspectors, shows that there were thirty-six accidents, fifteen of which were fatal. The death rate per thousand was 2.33. No death rate was due to explosions of either gas, dust or powder. Six deaths were from falls of rock and coal, three men were killed by a train of runaway mine cars and six deaths were due to other causes.

Vast Area of Coal Fields.

Coal-bearing formations underlie a larger proportion of Wyoming than of any other of the Rocky mountain states. It is the second largest producing state in the Rocky mountain region, Colorado ranking first, and if production in Wyoming continues to increase in the next few years as it has done in the last twenty-five, it will soon rival Colorado for first place in the region. Most of the productive area of Wyoming is included within the plains region, while that of Colorado is in or adjacent to the main mountain ranges. More than half of the coal produced in Wyoming is of the lignite character, a large proportion of the lignite output coming from the fields which extend from North Dakota through southeastern Montana to the northeastern part of Wyoming. Most of the bituminous fields are in the more mountainous regions and their areas, like those of the other Rocky mountain fields, are small compared with those of the lignite beds in the northeastern part of the state.

Important Producing Areas.

Among the more important producing areas are the Carbon and Hanna fields in Carbon county, which include the operations at Hanna and Carbon; the Rock Springs field, in Sweetwater county; the Ham's Fork field, in Uinta county, and the Almy field, also in Uinta county. The last two counties producing nearly 50 per cent of the state's entire output. The principal lignite production is at Sheridan, in Sheridan county. Most of the lignite is black in color and, having many of the characteristics of bituminous coal, is frequently classed as such by the producers. The other fields which have not yet been reached by railroads are the Henry's Fork field, in the southern part of Sweetwater county; the Wind River field, in Fremont county; the Big Horn basin, in Big Horn county; and the Teton field, in the northern part of Uinta county. Another field penetrated by the Union Pacific system is the Rawlins field, extending from the southern part of Fremont county through northeastern Sweetwater into Carbon county. The operations here are not of great importance. The Sublette field in the western part of Uinta county, crossed by the Oregon Short Line, is also of little importance.

MANSFIELD IS LITTLE BETTER

Trip Abroad Apparently Did Not Have Desired Effect Upon the Actor.

FUTURE CAREER DOUBTFUL

FAMILY UNWILLING TO ADMIT THE TRUTH.

Amersand, Lake Saranac, Aug. 4.—The continued illness of Richard Mansfield, the actor, since his return from Europe, has aroused some apprehension as to the effect on his stage career. Mr. Mansfield, accompanied by his wife, his brother, Felix Mansfield, a maid, a valet and a secretary, arrived here by special train from Montreal last Sunday night, and are occupying a cottage, where Mr. Mansfield has his meals served. He refuses absolutely to see anyone, but his brother, Felix Mansfield, speaking for him, said:

Due to Overwork.

"Mr. Mansfield as is well known, suffered a severe nervous breakdown, due without doubt to overwork. He had taken practically no vacation for several years. The voyage to England in the latter part of May rather upset him. He rested quietly at his country place in Sussex for nearly two months, living the quiet life of a country gentleman, but the weather here was foggy, cold and rainy, and it was thought best to return to this country. He decided to come to the Adirondacks for a rest of a week or two while his summer residence at New London, Conn., was being put in readiness for his occupancy. Mr. Mansfield has been advised to take a complete rest and to free his mind entirely from business cares and professional matters.

Getting Well Slowly.

"He sees nobody but the members of his family. He is convalescing slowly but satisfactorily, and we believe it is just a question of time when he shall regain his old time strength and vigor." Asked as to his brother's plans for the future, Mr. Mansfield said:

"If he has any plans for the future, he is keeping them to himself. Personally I think he has decided upon the plan to regain his health at the earliest possible time."

Doctors Summoned.

At the time when Felix Mansfield was giving this hopeful view of his brother's condition he was endeavoring to summon physicians from Montreal and other places to examine his brother. It is known that Mr. Mansfield suffered several bad nights, followed by some improvement. There is good reason to believe that his condition is more serious than his family are willing to admit. Dr. Newton of this place was called in, and on Thursday Dr. Lemaux of Montreal arrived and visited with him. The physician, however, would discuss the case. It is known that following Mr. Mansfield's nervous prostration he has suffered great pain from sciatic rheumatism and recently complained of severe pains in his side, probably caused by pleurisy. He has lost flesh, his face is pale, and his eyes show the severe ordeal he has been undergoing. A trained nurse is now in attendance upon him. Having been called from New York on Thursday, for the last few days Mr. Mansfield has taken daily drives in an easy vehicle.
